Disability Employment Professional

CDERP College is a natural extension of the research and employment support that CDERP has been undertaking and delivering for over a decade informally and formally since 2014.

Our training is evidence-based, practice informed, and developed to meet the needs of the evolving disability employment paradigm.

Modern effective disability employment systems demand up-to-date knowledge and skills to ensure that you meet the needs of clients who are undertaking a journey of discovery to personally meaningful employment and careers.

Our focus for decades has been on evolving the evidence for Disability Employment practice with a focus on using Customised Employment and improving practice methods.

Customised Employment is recognised as one of the leading employment practices for people with a disability and for that matter anyone with barriers to employment.

We developed a comprehensive training program for the Disability Employment Professional who wants to deliver a program with fidelity to the model and evidence. Welcome to our program;

The program has been developed and extensively used in Australia to ensure that it meets our funding settings for disability employment practice.

This is the program that we use in our Work First program to support people with complex barriers to pursuing employment on their terms.

Our CDERP Certified certificate training is delivered online with everything you'll need to understand the learnings and use the knowledge and skills that you are developing.

The modules are self-paced, but you won't be alone, as you will be guided on your learning journey by experienced Discovery practitioners and trainers. It is also delivered internally to provider groups.
